Laws of Congress.

CONFISCATION ACT.—The following are the provisions of law, passed by Congress, and approved by the President, Aug. 6, 1861—for the confiscation of certain rebel property and property used to advance the rebellion:

SEC. 1. That if, during the present or any future insurrection against the Government of the United States, after the President of the United States shall have declared, by proclamation, that the laws of the United States are opposed, and the execution thereof obstructed, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, or by the power vested in the marshals by law, any person or persons, his, her, or their agents, attorney, or employee, shall purchase or acquire, sell or give any property of whatsoever kind or description, with intent to use or employ the same, or suffer the same to be used or employed, in aiding, abetting, or promoting such insurrection or resistance to the laws, or any person or persons engaged therein; or if any person or persons, being the owner or owners of such property, shall knowingly use or employ, or consent to the use or employment of the same as aforesaid, all such property is hereby declared to be lawful subject of prize and capture wherever found; and it shall be the duty of the President of the United States to cause the same to be seized, confiscated, and condemned.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That such prizes and capture shall be condemned in the district or circuit court of the United States having jurisdiction of the amount, or in admiralty in any district in which the same may be seized, or into which they may be taken and proceedings first instituted.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the Attorney General, or any district attorney of the United States in which said property may at the time be, may institute the proceedings of condemnation, and in such case they shall be wholly for the benefit of the United States; or any person may file an information with such attorney, in such case the proceedings shall be for the use of such informer and the United States in equal parts.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That whenever hereafter, during the present insurrection against the Government of the United States, any person claimed to be held to labor or service under the law of any State, shall be required or permitted by the person to whom such labor or service is claimed to be due, or by the lawful agent of such person to take up arms against the United States, or shall be required or permitted by the person to whom such labor or service is claimed to be due, or his lawful agent, to work or to be employed in or upon any fort, navy yard, dock, armory, ship, entrenchment, or in any military or naval service whatsoever, against the Government and authority of the United States, then and in every such case the person to whom such labor or service is claimed to be due shall forfeit his claim to such labor, any law of the State or of the United States to the contrary notwithstanding. And whenever thereafter the person claiming such labor or service shall seek to enforce his claim, it shall be a full and sufficient answer to such claim that the person whose service or labor is claimed had been employed in hostile service against the Government of the United States, contrary to the provisions of this act.

NEW OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.—The following is the first section of an act of the last session of Congress, requiring certain persons in the civil service to take an oath of allegiance. The second section of the act makes the violation of this oath perjury.—Officers refusing to take the oath are to be immediately dismissed from public service.

That it shall be the duty of the heads of the several Departments to cause to be administered to each and every officer, clerk, or employee, now in their respective Departments, or in any way connected therewith, or who shall hereafter in any way become connected therewith, the following oath, viz: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support, protect and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, and that I will bear true faith, allegiance, and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State Convention or Legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and, further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge, and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever; and, further, that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties which may be required of me by law. So help me God." And that each and every such civil officer and employee, in the Departments aforesaid, or in any way connected therewith, in the service or employment of the United States, who shall refuse to take the oath or affirmation herein provided, shall be immediately dismissed and discharged from such service or employment.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag,—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union united and true
Arise and defend it [illegible]
Whose blood [illegible]

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 14, 1861

"Our Country Right or Wrong!"

This expression was made use of by a gallant naval officer some years ago when the subject of politics was introduced into a company, of which he was one. He declined to join the discussion, and said that "he was for the country right or wrong." The remark has often been quoted and with approbation. Men who belong to our army or navy are subject to the orders of government and the theory of our government is that it acts under the instructions of the people, and that its orders are always right. Without such a practice—such an understanding—it is clear that we have no government.

We now will ventilate a little article under this head which we find in the Portland Advertiser of yesterday morning. And we may here say, once for all, that we do not notice the articles of the Advertiser for any marked ability they possess, and only as speaking the opinions and sentiments of the Knights of the Golden Circle and its other secession brethren. The Advertiser commences its article with this sentence:

"OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG.—If the Republicans are sincere in the desire to have but one party, says the Albany Argus, let them meet, abjure the Chicago Platform and join the Democrats."

Now what do Republicans say everywhere? They say that there is but one question before the country, UNION and DISUNION. There is no pretension that the doctrines of the Chicago Platform are at issue. They are now among dead and past issues. The Republicans in the Eastern States nobly offer to join Union Democrats in their Conventions, in the making up of tickets and electing them. It is true that they make no such offers to secessionists,—who sympathize with the rebels now seeking to break up the government—such as the Albany Argus and Portland Advertiser, and their kin, and never will. Again, says the Advertiser:

"How many times they have jeered us for our party cry, 'Our country right or wrong,' which Democrats have faithfully lived up to in spite of disaffection and defeat. How often have their theologians pronounced this dogma of Democracy a heresy."

This is mere buncomb. Republicans and Union Democrats have always applauded this sentiment. They know it is based upon our Republican Constitution, and, unless lived up to, we shall have no government or country. The Advertiser goes on:—

"Let them follow us and we will lead them to victory."

Follow you! follow Benjamin Stark! follow J. C. Breckenridge—and you say you will soon lead us to victory! What victory? You can point us to Sumpter and Manassas and Lexington and show us the victories to which you would lead us! You can point to the Regiment of savages which enjoy your sympathies as instruments of your victories! You can direct our attention to a broken up Union—to an eternal war between the North and the South as one of the victories that you have in prospect! Follow you, follow Benjamin Stark in his hatred to our government, in his avowed preference for the Palmetto Flag over the Stars and Stripes! These are your victories, and without them you know that here in Oregon and elsewhere, you are a party without hope! We tell you that the Great Union Party of this Republic,—the Great Party of the Constitution, will not follow you in your victories! They prefer the bloody grave dug for Baker by your secession friends.

And the Advertiser still proceeds:

"The party that thinks and acts upon the belief that the Chicago platform is worth fifty Unions—is the Republican party and cannot restore the Union."

This assertion or insinuation, as it may be considered, that the Republican party act upon the belief that the Chicago platform is worth fifty Unions "is false as hell itself."—The Republicans regard the continuance of this Union as of more value than the Republican party and fifty other parties. The Republican party, dropping all their antecedents, most cordially unite with all Union men in sustaining our government in the war [illegible] restore it, in its full power [illegible] with [illegible] undimmed, not a stripe erased on the glorious flag of our country. There the Republicans are—there the Union Democrats are—and there will they stand until our national banner shall wave from every flag staff from which it has been torn by the hands of traitors. The Advertiser concludes:

"If the Union must be restored by other hands—and the masses are looking to the Democratic party for the accomplishment of that great object."

And where is the Democratic party here spoken of? Is it the Democrats in the Eastern States? These are acting with the Republicans shoulder to shoulder in this war for crushing out rebellion? Is it the treasonable party, called the "peace party" in the free States? The common acting for the South and enemy in the war, are too contemptible in numbers to be seen or felt in arresting the great surges of public opinion for putting down, by force of arms, the unnatural war forced upon the country by the parricides of the South. Who then are the "masses" spoken of? They are none other than the armies now in resistance to the Union. They who have refused to name their own terms for its re-establishment.—And yet the people of Oregon are treated with such mockeries of honesty, of common sense by a paper in the interest of rebellion and which pretends to speak for the masses of the Democracy!"

JOHN J. CRITTENDEN AND THE WAR.—However apathetic many may be, writes a Kentucky correspondent, there is no apathy about the venerated statesman who has succeeded to the place of Henry Clay in the affections of Kentucky. "Glory be to God!" shouted an excitable gentleman to John J. Crittenden this morning, "McClellan is sending 20,000 men from Washington to Cincinnati for Kentucky. We're safe now."

"Safe!" exclaimed the veteran Senator. Does it not blister your tongue to tell it? Safe! by Ohio and Indiana troops while Kentuckians allow themselves to be protected by others! It's a disgrace to Kentucky, sir!"

I had thought that I understood the chivalrous fire of "Old Kentuck" before, but never did I realize it as fully as when, a moment afterwards the venerable Senator, addressing a townsman, evidently about his own age, but with whose portly form time had dealt more keenly, exclaimed, "Oh George, you are not too old for a soldier—of course not. I am not too old for a soldier—not a bit too old! We must turn out, and shame those pretty young men, who ought to have aprons tied around them!" and sure enough the brave old patriot started off, almost immediately afterwards, to call out volunteers during the mountaineers. Let no man doubt the response.

A PRINTER'S REGIMENT.—Col. Frederick Follet of New York, a practical printer, who learned the trade in Batavia, proposes to raise a regiment of printers in that State, and recommends the canvassing of the printing offices for that purpose.—The Albany Evening Journal seconds the motion of the "honored member of the craft," and says that a thousand printers can be raised in the five hundred printing offices of the State, and hopes that he will promptly enter upon the enterprise.

MORE GOLD!!—The Mountaineer of yesterday says that it has information from the company that went up the Columbia river on a prospecting tour. They ascended 300 miles above Colville, and found gold all the way. In places they could make $25 a day to the hand with a rocker. They lost their provisions by the upsetting of their boat, but will return to spend the winter.

GOLD! GOLD.—The Mountaineer has late news from the Salmon river mines. John Monroe of Yamhill took out $180 in the afternoon, the next day 2½ lb and the next day 3 lb. John Malone panned out $400 the first day he took his claim. Bostwick, of California took out $80 in the day. Smith (three fingered) took 46½ ounces out of 100 buckets of dirt. Maroon Scott is making $100 a day. Mr. H. S. Case writes that the mines are paying from $25 to $400 a day to the man. Wages $10 and $12 a day.

THE CONTINENTAL TELEGRAPH.—The charge for telegraphing ten words from San Francisco to Chicago, has been reduced to $4 55—and 43 cents for each additional word.

The Mountaineer says that the appointment of Benj. Stark as Senator is an insult to every Union man in Oregon.

The Indians were duly executed at the Dalles on last Friday.

Circuit Court.—Wm. Hoffler made his voluntary appearance yesterday before the Court and plead not guilty to an indictment, which was found by the Grand Jury for the June term, 1861. The Court admitted the defendant to bail in the sum of $5,000. The following are his bailsman: J. Pulich, A. D[illegible], John Powell, Wm. Hallet, James Powell and W. Wallien. It will be seen from the indictment that the crime is alleged to have been committed some eight years since. James Highley, charged as accessory, has not made his appearance yet.

State of Oregon vs. William Hoffler and James Highley.—William Hoffler and James Hiley are accused by the Grand Jury of the county of Multnomah, by this indictment, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed as follows:—The said William Hoffler and James Hiley, on the 2d day of Nov., A. D. 1853, at the place of — Reed, in this county, did then and there purposely, feloniously, and of deliberate, and premeditated malice, and without authority of law, kill —Reed, by shooting him with a pistol loaded with powder and ball, contrary to the statutes in such cases made.

Dated at Portland, in the county of Multnomah, 15th day of June, 1861.

AMOS N. KING,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.

The following names are endorsed on the indictment as witnesses: JOHN LURTAIN,
J. R. WILLIAMS,
LOUIS HAIL,
WM. M. TAYLOR.

Who Ought to Know Best.—In the course of an argument, yesterday morning, in the Circuit court, on a motion to quash an indictment for playing a game of "poker," the learned counsel for the defence stated that he very widely differed from his Honor's opinion in regard to what constitutes the dealing of a game with cards, and by the way of proof, he asserted, that from his own experience in the "art" he ought to be correct, but the Court would not be changed in his understanding of the game, and decided accordingly. Query, who ought to know best?

Serenaders.—If any of our readers have any doubts as regards the quantity of amateur musical talent we have in our midst, just let them promenade our thoroughfares on some fine moon-light night, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock. Our Pressman and Devil informed us yesterday morning, that they were much enlivened night before last, by the melodious strains which proceeded from one of those talented bands.

A Familiar Countenance.—The Hon. O. C. Pratt, former Chief Justice for the Territory of Oregon, and now a practicing Attorney of California, made his appearance yesterday among the members of the Bar.

Theatrical.—Lovers of fun will not forget the re-opening of the Willamette Theatre by a Star Company of Minstrels under the management of Mr. J. P. Dennison. For particulars see programme.

Evening Schools.—These are good institutions in the long winter evenings for the education of young men. We do not a better one for this purpose than Mr. Sears' "Commercial College." See his advertisement.

☞ The New Cook Shop, Washington street, has been improved by the addition of two new waiters, and customers will now be waited on in best style.

Pickled Ducks sold wholesale or retail.

The Cook Shop is open at all hours of the night, and meals served at short notice.

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial, and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

Portland, May 16, 1861. dy

A Marriage a la Mode Nouvelle.—An old Dutch farmer, just arrived at dignity of justice of the peace, had his first marriage case. He dished it up in this way. He first said to his man:

"Vell, you vants to be marrit, do you? Vell, you loves dis woman so goot as any woman you have ever see?"

"Yes," answered the man.

Then to the woman:

"Vell, do you love dis man so better as [illegible] man you never see?"

Lady hesitated, and he repeated:

"Vell, vell, do you likes him so well as to be his wife?"

"Oh, certainly," she answered, with a kind of a titter.

"Vell, dat is all any reasonable man can expect. So you are marrit. I pronounce you man and wife."

The man then asked the justice what was to pay.

"Oh, nothing at all—nothing at all; you are welcome to it if it will do you any good."

"What's your name?" said an officer to a young colored lad, who joined the ship at the Cape.

"Algoa Bay, sir."

"Where were you born?"

"Wasn't born at all, sir."

"Wasn't born at all?"

"No, sir!—Was washed ashore in a storm."

"Colonel W——— is a fine looking man, ain't he?" said a friend of ours, the other day.

"Yes," replied another, "I was taken for him once."

"You! why you're as ugly as sin."

"I don't care for that; I was taken for him—I endorsed his note, and was taken for him—by the sheriff."

Sausages.—This is the season of the year when farmers' wives make up sausages. There are rules, which, if followed, make an excellent article.

Receipt for Sausage Meat.—To twenty-five pounds chopped meat, which should be one-third fat and two-thirds lean, put twenty spoons full of sage, twenty-five of salt and ten of black pepper.

Secretary Cameron goes in for encouraging home industry. Therefore last week he advised the Commissary General to buy no more foreign prepared vegetables and meats, giving his reason that all the money of the country should be kept here to carry on the war.

A recent Leavenworth paper says: "From gentlemen of well known character belonging to the nine counties on our border, we gain information which shows that at least one hundred slaves leave Missouri each day for Kansas."

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, holding a place in the dread catalogue of human diseases, a destructive drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental [illegible] prevents the proper development of the system, [illegible] society, business, and all [illegible] leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind [illegible] and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence [illegible] victims of self-abuse, that a permanent [illegible] can be effected, and with the [illegible] my patients can be restored [illegible]

[illegible] certificates of three of the [illegible] [illegible] who having received their [illegible] impelled by gratitude, [illegible] agent and their [illegible] authenticated by a Notary Public. The [illegible] commend their publicity, and we [illegible] to the attention of all afflicted:

[illegible]—I, the undersigned, desirous of [illegible] those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted [illegible] permanent relief of their [illegible] thus publicly express [illegible] gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the recovery of his health. Borne down by the [illegible] incident to the vicious practices of [illegible] the passion in youth depressed in body and mind [illegible] to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances, months of their treatment, I found to my [illegible] horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain [illegible] would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever [illegible] my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the [illegible] and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of [illegible] the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of [illegible] [illegible] advice, being assured by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be [illegible]

MARYSVILLE, June [illegible]

Dr. L. J. Czapkay, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not [illegible] got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called on you [illegible] with my constitution, as I thought, [illegible] entirely, and never thought you would be able to [illegible] perfectly, but thought you might be able to [illegible] to ease the pain in my back and head, and [illegible] nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremble at anything. Now that you know what I expected, you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from [illegible] the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the [illegible] of those emissions which you said were [illegible] cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having [illegible] my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] think myself [illegible] cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspaper. [illegible] me gratefully yours,

THOMAS [illegible]

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

Certificate.—Prompted by an honest desire of my [illegible] I wish to lay before the public a case which [illegible] I [illegible] not only as an act of scientific skill, but of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly [illegible] unknown to me. I was seized with a fit of [illegible] my inability to meet the expenses of [illegible] a thorough medical treatment, and the [illegible] which I met with on attempting [illegible] I was [illegible] led to believe) as to defy the skill of [illegible] physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning [illegible] to the agonies [illegible] and soon learned to look upon them [illegible] shelter me from [illegible] sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible] While in this state, and having previous to my [illegible] tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to [illegible] seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation [illegible] Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my [illegible] and of my inability to reward him for his services, [illegible] which he [illegible] at once undertook my case [illegible] [illegible] once more restored to perfect [illegible] [illegible] him for the boon which [illegible] of my indebtedness [illegible] [illegible] afflicted to make the [illegible] [illegible] need of medical advice [illegible] in whom [illegible] confidence can be placed.
